

University of Nebraska-Lincoln
 Honors Program

Statement of Academic Interest

At the approximate mid-point of your program, we ask you to provide us with evidence that you have a sense of what your major(s) and minor(s) will be, what requirements of the Honors Program you have already fulfilled, and how you will fulfill the remaining requirements. This statement does not lock you into any particular path; it is intended to be program-review for you and for us, to ask you to reflect on your college experience to this point, and to encourage you to give some thought to the remainder of your time at UNL. Failure to complete this form will result in losing the Textbook Scholarship and Honors Housing.

What plans do you have to structure your curriculum for the remainder of your academic career? Include major classes, minor and supporting classes and areas of interest for electives. For instance, in some majors, students are expected to develop an area of emphasis or use elective hours to prepare for careers after graduation. If that is your situation, what combination of courses both within your major and in other disciplines have you and your academic advisor identified as most appropriate?

This is a good time to begin thinking of the research project you will complete prior to graduation. Do you have some idea, at this time, of the general area in which you might pursue research? And if so, have you spoken with an advisor about your interest?

Have you given any thought to career/graduate/professional school plans?

Have you given any thought to applying for competitive scholarships? And, have you located information on the Internet about those scholarships?
